1. Japanese patent application (Kokai) publication no. 9-107517 entitled "Control Method for Detecting a Changing Point in a Motion Picture, a Reproduction Stop-Controlling Method Using That Control Method, and Motion Picture-Editing System Using These Methods", discloses a function of detecting the switching of display images and editing the display images.

2. Japanese patent application (Kokai) publication no. 9-284667 entitled "Subliminal Video Processing Apparatus, a Television Receiver, and Magnetic Recording/Reproducing Apparatus", discloses a function of removing a subliminal video image from AV data. The relevance of this document is also discussed at pages 2-3 of the specification of the present application.

This submission does not represent that a search has been made or that no better art exists and does not constitute an admission that each or all of the listed documents are material or constitute "prior art." If the Examiner applies any of the documents as prior art against any claim in the application and applicants determine that the cited documents do not constitute "prior art" under United States law, applicants reserve the right to present to the Office the relevant facts and law regarding the appropriate status of such documents. Applicants further reserve the right to take appropriate action to establish the patentability of the disclosed invention over the listed documents, should one or more of the documents be applied against the claims of the present application.
